

Statement of Qualifications:

My involvement in politics has basically been writing editorials and interacting with government officials through personal letters and e-mails. I had no plans to be any more involved than that. But I was asked by Democratic Party leaders to run for this office. I usually vote Republican in national politics (although I vote for Matheson), but I usually vote Democrat in state politics. I was especially disappointed in our current legislature in the way they pushed school vouchers, railroaded the Sandy soccer stadium, passed the law that allowed the traumatic division of the Jordan School District, etc. During my 39 years in Sandy, Utah, I worked mostly as a public school educator – English teacher, coach, assistant high school principal, high school principal, middle school principal, and middle school math teacher, in that order. I have also worked as a farm worker, carpenter, painter, truck driver, county recreation director, little league coach, basketball referee, and softball umpire. I have served in many positions in the LDS church. I have had a lot of experience in problem solving, conflict resolution, and group planning. I would try my best to represent the citizens of District 41.
